

U.S. Healthcare has Cancer, but We Can Cure It!

Dr. Deane Waldman's Blueprint for Putting We the Patients Back in Charge

Dr. Deane Waldman, MD MBA

Emeritus Professor of Pediatrics, Pathology & Decision Science
Former Director, Center for Healthcare Policy,
Texas Public Policy Foundation

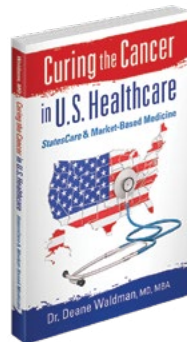

The supply of physicians over the past 40 years has increased more than one hundred and fifty percent while the supply of healthcare bureaucrats has increased by more than three thousand percent! Who pays their salaries and what is the benefit to us?

Dr. Deane was a renowned practicing pediatric cardiologist for thirty-seven years and reluctantly retired when the Supreme Court upheld Obamacare in 2012. He contributed more than 150 academic, peer-reviewed articles that improve the care for cardiac children and has been an Invited Lecturer or Visiting Professor over 75 times, nationally and internationally.

Dr. Deane uses his knowledge of systems thinking to "diagnose" and treat what is wrong with our sick healthcare system and offers his astounding and revelatory findings to captivated audiences around the globe. He has published more than 250 articles for the public in numerous print venues. Keen on solutions, Dr. Deane gives options for better health, while uncovering the lies that hold us captive to a failing healthcare system.

Dr. Deane's "cure" for healthcare, StatesCare, has been reported in Fox News, The Hill, Washington Examiner, and Real Clear Health, before being fully described in his latest book, Curing the Cancer in U.S. Healthcare: StatesCare and Market-based Medicine, available on Amazon.com Click to see trailer...

Education: Dr. Deane received formal degrees from Yale (BA in History); Chicago Medical School (MD); and Anderson Schools of Management (MBA). After medical school, he trained at Northwestern, Mayo Clinic, and Harvard in Pediatrics, Pediatric Cardiology, Pediatric Cardiac Pathology, and later, in systems theory.
